

Job Advertisements

Newsrooms: | -- Select--

We only take the best so don't bother applying unless you're committed to excellence and want to 'get on the bus' to help us build the business to the next exciting milestone.	We are looking for a Marketing coordinator to work within the marketing team and support teams across the company to grow recognition of CNET Networks Australia in the Australian marketplace as a "Different Kind of Media Company".
--	---

- Home
- Articles
- Contacts
- Opportunities
- Coverage
- Newsrooms
- Calendar
- Email
- ±

Logout | Contact Us

New tag Manage tags

Search: in

Frost & Sullivan hosts 'state of industry' roundtables

By Staff Writers
Oct 24, 2007

Several industry opinion leaders, analysts, IT professionals and a stellar lineup of journalists are taking part in the Frost & Sullivan ICT 2007/2008 roundtables to be held at the Sydney Hilton on November 16.

The three roundtable discussions, which will be individually presented by industry analyst Darryl Nelson, ex-Australian news editor and senior analyst Simon Hayes and research manager Audrey William, will tackle digital media advertising, enterprise outsourcing and unified communications, respectively.

Panelists will wrap up the past year, before launching into an examination of 2008 and the upcoming trends of the future.

The agenda will be as follows:

The digital media advertising panel, hosted by Darryl Nelson, will include:

1. Willie Pang, Head of Yahoo! Search Marketing
2. Monique Talbot, CEO, Tempest Media
3. Michael Lams, Digital Sales Director, News Digital Media
4. Fionn Hyndman, Managing Director, DGM Australia
5. Mark Chenery, Features Editor, Ad News

The enterprise outsourcing panel, presented by Simon Hayes, will include:

1. Michael Blake, Director for the Federal Region, KAZ
2. Deepak Nangia, Country Manager, Satyam Computer Services
3. Mike Shove, CEO, CSC Australia
4. Barry Pipella, VP Sectors & Sales, IBM Global Technology Service
5. Sandra Rossi, Editor, Computerworld Australia

The unified communications roundtable, presented by Audrey William, will include:

1. Peter Hughes, Manager Regional Sales for Technology & Business Solutions, Cisco

In Other News

>> Blocked by secrecy

On the day where a racehorse stops the nation, there was more than horsey news in today's headlines. Making front page news is the concern over the flow of information being blocked by government secrecy.

>> New journos join ZDNet Australia team

ZDNet Australia welcomed new reviews

- 2. Gerard Florian, Chief Technology Officer, Di Data
- 3. Craig Neil, Managing Director, NSC
- 4. Oscar Trimboli, Group Manager, Real Time Collaboration, Microsoft Australia
- 5. Neville James, Director of Channels & Marketing for Australia, Nortel
- 6. Rodney Gedda, Technical Editor, Computerworld Australia

For more information, click here.

editor Alex Serpo and journalist Suzanne Tindal to the team last week.

>> Smart alec journos beware

Companies can find out how to deal with nosy journalists and learn all about "managing reputational risk" at a talk this Wednesday hosted by Gerard Henderson's Sydney Institute.

There are no Comments

LEAVE COMMENTS HERE

>> Journos hop into Play-Doh comp

To celebrate the launch of Sony Australia's third instalment in its colour advertising series called "Play-Doh", a media competition was held, where journalists were invited to create their own Bravia Bunny using supplied tubs of Play-Doh

for a chance to win a 40-
inch W
Series
Bravia
LCD TV.

[>> Media
Shots:
Journos
hop into Play-Doh
comp](#)

To celebrate the launch of Sony Australia's third instalment
in its colour
advertising
series
called
"Play-Doh", a media
competition
was held,
where journalists were invited to create their own Bravia
Bunny
using supplied tubs of Play-Doh
for a chance
to win a 40-
inch W
Series
Bravia
LCD TV.

[CLICK
HERE
FOR ALL NEWS](#)

Home | Articles | Contacts | Opportunities | Coverage | Newsrooms | Calendar | Email